TO FIGHT FOR GOLD

Senator Gorman, It Is Now Said, Will Go to Chicago.

SILVER WAVE BECOMES ALARMING

William C. Whitney's Decision To Postpone His Trip to Europe To Fight the White Metal Move Draws the Maryland Senator to His Aid.

Baltimore, June 18 .- The statement from New York that William C. Whitney has decided to postpone his trip to Europe in order to take part in the deliberations of the democratic national convention caused the statement here that Senator Gorman, too, would participate in the Chicago debate of gold versus silver. The senator, it is said, will accept the vacant position as delegate-at-large created by the declination of Charles C. Homer to serve in that capacity. Senator Gorman has repeatedly asserted that he would not go to Chicago, but the impending fight over the financial plank of the platform to be adopted there, it is claimed, caused him to change his plans. In speaking of the situation to-day one of Mr. Gorman's close friends said: "Senator Gorman did his best in the state convention last week to prevent any foolish action on the currency question. I think it is his duty to go to Chicago and use all his influence there to prevent the national convention from committing party suicide. He has much influence with the southern people. on account of his leadership in the force bill fight." Senator Gorman could not be found in this city this morning, nor at his home in Laurel. It is not known whether or not he has returned from New York, where he was in conference with Mr. Whitney.

NORTH AMERICAN SQUADRON. The Proposed Manoeuvres This Summer

Will Not Be Interfered with.

Washington, June 18 .- The pary department has informed Rear Admiral Bunce, commanding the North Atlantic station, that it proposes, if practicable, not to interfere in any manuer with the movements and exercises of his squadron during the present season. With this view, Secretary Herbert has been obliged to decline the numerous requests he has received for shins to visit certain places and take part in local celebrations and festivities. The first will cruise at sea between Nantucket and the capes of the Chesaneake. It will leave New York about July 15 provided its duties with the naval militia are then completed; will cruise to the southward and enter Rampton roads: then to the northward to Gardiner's bay, Fisher's island, Nantucket island and back to Hampton roads early in October. The manoeuvres will consist of the various squadron movements and formations necessary for fleets and squadrons in time of war: anchoring and getting under way under different circumstances, signulling, target practice, etc. Secretary Herbert is making every effort to collect a large fleet of battleships. monitors and cruisers to take part in these exercises, and it will be the largest fleet ever assembled by the navy department for instructions in fleet tactics.

HIS ACCUSER MAY BE GUILTY.

Edward McCormick Acquitted of the Charge of Murder in New York.

New York, June 18.-Edward Mc-Cormick, who was accused of the murder of Mamie Cunningham at 315 East 37th street, May 30, has been exonerated by the grand jury, who dismissed the complaint. Joseph Ferrone, also known as Mareno, who was the chief accuser, was indicted for perjury. A complete alibi was established for Mc-Cormick. Joe is now suspected himself of being implicated in the murder. and it is thought that an indictment will follow and that the present indictment on the charge of perjury is to hold him until more evidence can be optained against him.

THEIR FATE IN DOUBT.

Probably 250 Persons on Board the Drummond Castle Drowned.

Brest, France, June 18 .- The British steamer Drummond Castle, Capt. N. W. Pierce, from Cape Town for London, came in collision at midnight with an unknown steamer and sank three minutes later with 143 passengers and 194 or her erew, including officers. Two men were picked up, floating on some wreekage, by fishermen off Ushant, near where the steamer went down. It is still hoped, however, that some of the passengers and crew escaped in the boats. The Drummond Castle belonged to the famous Castle line of steamships running between South Africa and London. She was of about 2,350 tons register and was last heard of at Las l'almas, canary islands, on June 12. last Friday. The fate of the steamer with which the Drummand Castle was in collision is not known, and hopes are expressed that she may be afford and that some of the passengers and crew of the Castle liner are on board

Six Bodies Recovered.

London, July 13.-The United Press correspondent at Brest telegraphed this morning that no positive knowledge had been obtained up to that time regarding the fate of the missing passengers and crew of the sunken steamer, except that, as before reported, one survivor was at Ushant and two others were at de Molen and that six boiles had been recovered. The correspondent also stated that a search is being made by steamers in th  $\cdot$  vicinity of the scene of the disaster sin the hope of rescuing other survivors. Incoming vessels which have actived at Plymouth report that upon entering tre change' on the night of the 16th inst, they encountered rainy weather and a rough sea, with some wind b owing.
Ran Onto a Rock.

London, June 18 .- The Castle Steamship company has received no further news regarding the sanking of the Immmond (astle, outside of a report which said the steamer struck a rock and went down within five minutes, and that there was no collision with another vessel.

THE CUBAN WAR.

Several Engagements Reported - Statement in Defense of Gen. Lee.

Havana, June 1s .- Bands of insurgents under the leaders Diaz and Permudez on the 14th inst. attacked a party of volunteers near Yaguas, in the Piner del Rio province, wounding a lientenant and killing a sergeant. A column of government troops came to the assistance of the volunteers and the fight was continued, resulting in the loss by the Spanis rd of one lieutenant and six privates o the regulars and one officer and three privates of the volunteers. A band of 700 rebels attacked Pase, in the same province, but were repulsed. A dispatch sent from Hayana to Madrid under the date of June 12 having contained the statement that Gen. Leo, the recently appointed United States consul-general. had inspired a feeling of distrust because of the interest be displayed in persons held in custody by the authorities and by having dined with enemies of the Spanish government, it is proper to state that since his arrival here Consul-General Lee, with the exception of having dined with personal friends. has accepted only two invitations. One of these was from Capt.-Gen. Weyler himself. Upon the other oceasion the consul-general was the guest at the Hotel Inglaterra of Charles Akers, the correspondent of the London Times. Upon the latter occasion invitations were sent to all of the foreign consuts in Havana.

Claims $9,951 from New York State.

Albany, June 15 -F. Emerson Webster of Brutus, Cayuga county, has filed a claim against the state with the board of claims for 50,954 for an island in the Seneca river alleged to have been destroyed through the construction of a state dam in the river.

School Directors Sent to Jail.

St. Louis, June 18.-The eight school board directors, in contempt of court for violation of the supreme court's order to appoint a non-partisan board of election officers for a special election in a school discrict in this city, have been sent to jun for ten days.

Struggle for Second Place Waxed Warm This Morning.

COV. MORTON'S NAME STILL HEARD

If He Wants It-Hobart Still on the McKinley State and Evans Continues in the Ruce.

St. Louis. June 18 .- The vice-pre-idential contest is the only matter of any doubt now before the convention and the struggle is waxing warm. The report is again heard at every turn that Gov. Morton has agreed to accept the place and that the McKinley managers will give him their support. Ex-Gov. Foraker is to present Morton's came to the convention. While the name of Henry Clay Evans is still prominently heard in connection with the second place the fight this morning seemed to be between Gov. Morton and Garrett A. Hobart of New Jersey. The latter gentleman could probably develop the greatest strength unless the McKiniev managers entered into a deal with the Platt men for the New York governor. The Hobart candidacy is regularly slated as a part of the McKinley programme, but there is no evidence that the McKinley vote can be held together for any vice-presid-ntial candidate. While Senator Thurston has favored Hobart, some of the Nebraska delegates have declared their preference for Morton.

Gov. Bulkely's Boom Rejuvenated. The boom of Gov. Bulkeley of Connecticut for vice-president, which has not been heard of much for the past two days, has been suddenly rejuvenated, and to-day he is again considered #### as one of the leaders in the race. Hanna Is Silent.

It is probable that on the first ballot for vice-president the twenty-four votes of Virginia will be cast solidly for Gen. James A. Walker as a compliment to that distinguished hero of the confederacy. After that has been done it is claimed the vote will be almost upanimous for Mr. Morton if his name should be placed in nomination. With Mr. Morton not a candidate. Mr. Hobart of New Jersey is expected to get about twenty out of the twenty-four votes. The Ohio delegation has held no caucus on the vice-presidential question and none will be held. Each member will be permitted to vote as he pleases. Mr. Hanna has no wish in the matter and positively declines to intimate what he would like to see done. It was given out at the Ohio headquarters this morning that Mr. Hanna considered every pledge kept and every instruction obeyed when the delegates should cast their votes for William McKinley for president of the United States. Efforts have been made to secure some intimation from Mr. Hanna as to what his ideas are with respect to the nomination of a running mate, but to all comers Mr. Hanna is discretely silent. It is admitted at the Ohio headquarters that between eighteen and twenty of the forty-six votes of that state will be cast for Mr. Morton for vice-president. The remainder will probably be divided equality between Mr. Hobart and Mr. Evans.

DEBS TALKS WAR.

Scathingly Denounces Almost Every Feature of Our Government.

Philadelphia. June 18.-Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway union, signalized his first appearance in Philadelphia by delivering two seathing diatribes at labor meetings he addressed yesterday that included in their scope of denunciation almost every existing feature of government and society. He unhesitatingly secred the highest legislative and administrative bodies in the land, including the president, congress, the supreme and federal courts, all of which, he decared, were the tools of "the money p wer," and the oppressors of the peopie. In conclusion he declared that "If it is necessary for us to go to war to preserve our rights, let us go to war, and the quicker the better. I would rather have the necessary change from the existing order of things accompassied peacefully and constitutionally. out -and this was added with a studied effort-"I insist upon the charge. As for myself, I would rather die with a moose about my neck or be shot to death than die a slave."

THE VICE PRESIDENCY | A PATHETIC PARTING

Desertion of Teller, Cannon and Dubois from the Republicans.

SILVER DEFEAT TOO HUCH FOR THEM

renstor Teller's Leave-Taking in Some Respects Dramatic--Carter of Montana Declines To Join

St. Louis, June 13.—The most striking incidents during the past twento-four hours were not in the convention, although the proceedings vesterday were a trifle more animated than on the opening day, but in the rooms of the committee on resolutions, where Senator Teller declared that he could no longer remain in the republican ranks after it had been committed to the single gold standard. Ine high personal esteem the members of the committee entertained for "r. Teller and the heartfelt regret he so plainly snowed in being compelled to sever life-long ties gave to the scene unusual interest. To that extent it was dramatic, but it was more pathetic than any thing else, because it was evident Mr. Teller took this course as a matter of conscience and principle and without any other reason. This was fully understood and it was for this reason his associates exhibited equal marks of friendship and regret. Notwithstanding that this was a family quarret in which two factions were arrayed against each other, it was characterized by a gennine interchange of courtesies which robbed it of all the bitterness which usually accompanies a party schism. Senator Frank Cannon of Utah, still in the thirties, a republican from boyhood and deeply atteched to the principles of the party. exhibited almost equal feeling at terminating his political affiliation.

Only Four Bolters. Notwithstanding the radical position assumed by the silver men it is noticeable that only four. Senators Telier, Dubois and Cannon, and Mr. Cleveland of Montana, announced that they would leave the party. Two other members of the committee. Representative Hartman of Montana and Dr. Nott of North Carolina, stated that they were still republicans, and would stick to the party. When the convention adjourned till to-day, instead of taking a recess until evoning, as it was expected to do, in order to hear the report of the committee on resolutions. which, it was stated, would be ready by that hour, rumors were circulated in the convention hall that this course had been taken because several states had threatened to bolt because of the financial plank Investigation failed to disclose any foundation for these rumors. The vote by which the convention, at the bidding of the credentials committee, refused to reopen any contested cases settled by the national committee clearly showed that the Chio leaders had the convention well in hand, even in matters where many of the delegates felt a strong personal

Carter Refuses To Boit.

St. Louis, June 18.—Senator Carter of Montana is no longer one of the five insurgent senators. His associates, Senators Teller, Dubois and Cannon, made plain their positions before the resolutions committee, and what course Senators Carter and Mantle would pursue has been a matter of general interest. The former has notified the silver men that he could not go with them, and that if they bolted and left the convention and the republican party they must do so without him. Mr Mantle has not yet notified his colleagues to the same effect, but will probably do so to-day.

DEPREDATIONS BY CHRISTIANS. Alleged To Have Burned Mussulmans' Houses and Destroyed a Mosque,

Washington, June 18 .- The Turkish logation has received from the sublime porte the following telegram: "The governor-general of Crete telegraphs that the Christians burned the houses and olive trees of the Mussulman, of Henoutri and Platania and destroyed one mosque by dynamite. These facts do justice to the columnies brought against the Mussulmans population and troops."

Treasury Gold Reserve.

Washington, June 15 -- The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at Ci 3,200,194. All the gold due under the last bond issue has now been p 11 into the treasury. It amounted to $111,266,621,07, of which $100,000,000 was principal, $11,163,246 premium and $189,395 interest.

loving, constitution-respecting, lawabiding, labor-seeking, decent man; the abolition of sectionalism, a deathless loyalty to all that is truly American and a patriotism as eternal as the stars." He was loudly applauded as he took his seat. The convention then took a recess until 2 o'clock.

The Afternoon Session.

It was 2:40 o'clock when Chairman Thurston rapped for order. The Illinois delegation presented to the chairman a gavel made from a log of a house in which Abraham Lincoln once lived. Judge Denny of the republican club of Lexington, Ky., presented a gavel made of ash wood cut on the old homestead of Henry Clay. This gavel was presented to Temporary Chairman Fairbanks. The presentation and the speeches of acceptance killed time for fifteen minutes. Then the credentials committee handed in its report. The majority report favored the seating of the Higgins delegation in Delaware, and in the contest of the Texas delegates-at-large they favored the seating of the delegation headed by Grant. In the other contests they reported in favor of sustaining the action of the national committee and making the temporary roll permanent. The minority report was against accepting the roll of the national committee and recommending the seating of the Addicks delegation from Delaware and the Cuney delegates from Texas. Chairman Fort of the committee moved the previous question on the report. Under the rules twenty minutes for debate were allowed each side. Senator Quay requested a division on the question of votes on the states separately which was granted by the chairman. The senator was loudly applauded. On the motion to order the previous question Maine demanded a roll call, and the motion was seconded by lowa. Mr. Hepburn made the point of order that delegates whose seats are contested had no right to vote. He was overruled.

On the roll call the vote of Alabama was challenged and changed to 19 ayes and 3 noes. Colorado voted solid and Connecticut followed suit. Maine cast 12 noes: Massachusetts, 2 ayes and 28 noes; New Hampshire, 8 noes; Pennsylvania. 5 ayes and 59 noes: Rhode Island, S noes. Florida voted 7 aves. 1 no. Georgia, 20 ayes, 6 noes. Illinois, 30 ayes. 18 noes. Idaho voted 6 noes. Indiana, 23 ayes. 3 noes. Iowa voted solid, 26 noes. Kentucky, 23 aves: 3 noes. Missouri, 20 ayes, 14 noes. New Jersey, 20 ayes. When ex-Senator Platt. got up to cast the vote of New York he was greeted with cheers and hoots. New York voted 18 ayes, 52 noes. Ohio cast 46 affirmative votes. The total vote to order the previous question on the majority report of the committee on credentials resulted: Ayes, 545 %; noes, 35 + %.

Adjournment Taken.

Gen. Bingham of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee on rules then presented his report, which recommended the rules of former conventions. They were read in full, and the report was adopted. Then, amid great applause, at 4 o'clock, it was annonneed that the committee on resolutions would not be ready to report until evening, and the convention adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

NOMINATIONS TO-DAY

Republican Convention Will Probably Adjourn Before To-morrow.

PROGRAMME OF M'KINLEY MANAGERS

Nothing Foreseen in the Way Now of a Speedy Completion of the Work-Nothing in Doubt Except the Vice-Presidency.

St. Louis, June 18.-Unless the unforeseen happens the republican national convention will complete its labors to-day and adjourn sine die. This is the desire of the McKinley managers this morning and there seems to be nothing in the way of their programme being carried out. One prominent worker in the ranks of the Ohio man said this morning that the ticket would be named before to-morrow morning and that it would be McKinley and Morton if the New Yorkers desired the governor's nomination and if he will accept second place. Otherwise Hobart of New Jersev or Evans of Tennessee would be selected as running mate with McKinley, with the chances favoring the Jerseyite. The announcement of the retirement from the party of Teller, Cannon and Dubois because of the defeat of free silver causes much comment, but as these gentlemen have promised to remain neutral during the presidential campaign their loss is not #### feared but deeply regretted. Great Victory, Says Manley.

J. H. Manley said this morning that the eastern republicans had won a great victory in this convention in foreing the convention to accept and declare for the maintenance of the gold standard.

The McKinley Parade.

The big Mckinley parade last night. though delayed by a thunder storm, came off eventually. There was a very large number of clubs in line, and the dislay was as effective as abundance of red fire, good music, numerous banners and McKinley pictures and cheers and general enthusiasm could make it. A new march, composed for the occasion, was played with success. SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS. Permanent Organization and Delay over the Platform Committee. St. Louis, June 18.-There was a repetition yesterday of the scenes of confusion which characterized the assembling of delegates and spectators on the opening day of the republican national convention. The seats of the delegates had been shifted around during the night, and New York was put away in the rear. The delegates from Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, and New Jersey were placed between the delegates from New York and the platform. The New Yorkers entered a protest, but it was too late. The Chic delegation, which had the front left hand section, were moved back two rows of seats, and North Carolina placed in front of them. Indiana, Missouri and Illinois were given better locations. The rest of the states were ieft undisturbed. Temporary Chairman Fairbanks called the convention to order at 10:40. After the opening prayer by Dr. Williams, the convention was ready for business. Senator Lodge reported that the committee on resolutions was not ready to report. Neither was the committee on credentials. The secretary then read the report of the committee recommending John M. Thurston of Nebraska for permanent chairman. He was elected without opposition and was escorted to the platform amid applause. As soon

DR. BUCKLE'S ADVENTURE.

"Buckle, sir-Rev. Dr. Buckle," he said, leaning over the back of the seat before me and grasping my hand heartily. "Glad to know you," I replied. "Indeed, I've been longing for some one to talk to, for it seems to me that this journey is interminable."

"Slow train-bad road," said my newmade friend, throwing his high hat or the back of his head and biting the enc off of a eigar. "Oh, I see you smoke Don't fill your pipe. Take one of these—excellent—made by one of my congregation."

"I only smoke a pipe," I said, stretching the truth a little that he might not feel offended. Then I pressed my face against the window and peered out into the dismal country through which we were running. Now we were plunging through lonely stretches of dark woods. now running scross wide reaches of newly-cleared fields, with here and there a log house rising above the waste of fallen trees, just visible in the half light of the moon which was rising above the mountains a few miles away Following us was a white, smooth road that glistened in the moonlight close to the track. Once in awhile we lost it in the darkness of the woods, but as quick ly as we emerged into the more oper country we could see it at our side again hugging us close, which, I reflected, was but natural in such a dreary land.

"Fine land, eh?" said Dr. Buckle
"I don't think, as my third son, a clever lad, if there ever was one, says. It just happens that I know this region pretty well. There! Did you see that place where the road crossed a creek on a wooden bridge. That was where they dropped me."

"Dropped you?" I ventured, inquir

"Pardon me. I thought I had been telling you about it," returned the minister, tilting his tile further back on his head. "What memories the sight of that place engenders. You see, sir, some ten years ago I had charge in this very locality-at Poleville, five miles down the road. There were two churches, one at the village and the other back in the country some six miles, and I alternated between them. The charge was indeed a poor one, but I was a struggling young divine then, with a wife and four little ones to support, and I was glad enough to have a snug parsonage, a salary of $500 per year and an average of three donation parties per annum. It was the salary question that eventually drove me away from the place-a change for the better, to be sure, as I have now a splendid church in Punkington. By the by. I wish if you ever stop there you would give us a call and see our new pulpit furniture."

"But your story," I interrupted, for I saw that he was prone to wander from the subject of his discourse.

"Ah! there I was forgetting my tale to speak of pulpit trappings. Your pardon. The trouble was that fully fourfifths of my salary was paid by two families, both wealthy farmers, the Bunders and the Springhouses. Unfortunately for me these families had been at odds for years over a matter of a line fence In the west there would have been some lead exchanged, but this is a peaceable country, and so they contented themselves by quarreling in court and never passing a word elsewhere. To the rule, however, there was one exception-Henry Bunder and Kate Springhouse." The doctor was evincing such garrulity that I felt a little uneasy and broke again the thread of his story.

"See here, I think I know the rest They sang in the same choir; they loved; you married them clandestinely; salary cut off: left you a parsonage, $500 per year and three donation par

"True, true," said the divine, stroking his long beard, "but that was not what I was going to tell you about. I proposed to relate the events as they affeeted me and not the young couple; to tell you how the wedding ended where the road crossed the bridge. May I go

"By all means. Your pardon; I believed that I had divined your tale."

"In general, yes; in detail, no. But to continue. I was not aware of this exception until one October night just about ten years ago, when a loud bang ing at the parsonage door awakened my wife and me from our sleep. At my request Mrs. Buckle went downstairs to see what it was.

"Who is there?' she called through the keyhole.

"'John Bunder.' came the answer, and he wants Preacher Buckle pretty quick, too.'

"Believing it a matter of importance, my wife rashly called me downstairs to attend to the matter in hand, while she retired. And still more rashly I opened the door a crack and demanded to know what was wanted at such an hour.

"'It's John Bunder and Kate Springhouse wants you marry 'em, preacher,' said the big fellow whom I saw stampng to and fro on the porch. 'And you'll have to do it quick.'

"'Indeed,' says I, 'and this is a nice hour to wake an honest preacher for such a purpose.'

"And then my curiosity getting the setter of my discretion I unchained the 'oor and opened wider the crack that I night obtain a good view of the party it the gate. There were three of them itting in a light spring wagon, to which were attached two lively mules. In the moonlight I could just discern the small form of Kate Springhouse, and in white, and seated in front beside her burly lover, young Bunder. I realized at once that this wedding was fraught with not a little danger to me. and hence decided to act cautiously.

"'I would prefer that you and your friends would go elsewhere,' I said to the man outside. 'For instance, over the mountains to Brother---'

"Before I had finished my objection the girl screamed: "They're coming!" The big fellow on the porch threw his No. 25 West Main Street. I weight against the door with such vio-lence that I, small man as I am, flew backward to the floor with such force as to partially stun me. When I recovered my senses I found myself on the hind seat of the wagon, with a man at either side, and Henry Bunder, his sweetheart clinging to him, before me, madly lashing the mules.

"'He has come to,' one of the men whispered.

"Kate Springhouse gave a little scream of joy, which was followed by another of fear, and an involuntary seizure of her lover's arm.

"'I hear them,' he said, 'but we will be married before they catch us.

"As I sat there in that rough, rushing, bounding wagon, hatless, with no protection from the autumn winds other than a light horse blanket my kidnapers had thrown about me, the words of an old rermon of mine came back to me, bringing endless comfort. It was from the first clause of Proverbs 1:17-'Better is a dry morsel.' In that discourse I made a point of the fact that anything is better than nothing; that as we are is better than not being; that better is a dry morsel than no morsel. Now if you refer back to First Kings

"Excuse me for interrupting, doctor," exclaimed. "But I shall certainly at tend church in Punkington to hear your discourse, but for the present about this elopement."

"Pardon, pardon," said the minister, relighting his cigar. "I was wandering, to be sure. The young people lost no time in explaining what was wanted, and I, realizing that the quicker it was done the closer to home they would leave me, was not unwilling to begin. We had by this time struck into this road that we are following, and were swinging along at a steady run. The light wagon swayed to and fro so that I had difficulty in retaining my feet when I stood up to perform the ceremory. The bride and groom remained seated, for the latter was busy with the driving. Scarcely had the first words left my mouth when we heard behind us a faint call to stop, and turning I saw a buckboard, drawn by two dashing horses, just appearing into view over the brow of the hill a quarter mile behind. I saw the moonlight gleam on something that savored of guns, and a cold chill crept over my frame.

"'It's pa!' exclaimed the bride. But go ahead, Mr. Buckle. It will do no good to let your teeth chatter.'

"My teeth did chatter, and with cause, for beside the scantiness of my garb, the persons following us fired a gun. I heard the report and ducked, and I am positive that a bullet whistled a few inches above my head, with that peculiar sound we read so much of in war history. The marriage ceremony is really very short, but performed under such conditions it seemed to me endless. But at length it was done.

" 'I suppose you will let me off now? I said, for I could bear clearer than ever the clatter of horses' feet behind us, and knew that our pursuers were closing. did not want to witness the meeting.

"'Not just yet, doctor,' said one of the big fellows at my side. 'The marriage certificate next; and the heaviest signs "And with that he drew from his pocket the needed paper. Mary Springbouse put her name in the proper place and then young Bunder signed. The rattle of wheels came louder, but we were in the woods and could not see the

"'My turn next,' said I, seizing the pencil from the groom.

"'Not on your life!' yells the big fellow who held me. 'Heaviest first.'

"And with that be seized the certifi cate and pencil and witnessed the paper. Then he leaped off behind and disappeared in the woods. We had emerged into that clearing where you saw the bridge when a call to stop came to us ngain. I dared not look back, but I saw the whip fall on the mules, and they plunged forward with a lightened load, for the second witness had signed and left us. There was a report, and again I seemed to hear the whistling bullet intended for the groom, a fact that caused me to involuntarily start to jump, to find my escape balked, for the bride clung fast to my blanket.

"'Sign the certificate!' she screamed. "I sizned-a very peculiar signature. to be sure, but it satisfied her, and she expressed her satisfaction by giving me a push that sent me flying from the whicle into the road by the bridge.

"When I regained my senses I was lying in the ditch at the roadside, my feet partially immersed in the waters of the creek. My position was such that my prostrate body could not have been seen from the road, and the pursuers must have driven by the spot, little suspect ing that one of the chief and most unwilling actors of the drama lay bleeding within a few feet of them. For bleed ing I was; my head was badly cut; my brek and sides bruised so that every step caused me misery. I listened at tentively, but heard no sound of hoofs or wheels, and so determined that the pursuit was now far away. Weary, cold and wounded, I set out for home, five miles back along the dreary road and through these lonely woods. The sun was just rising when I dragged myself up the steps of the parsonage and fell exhausted into the arms of the agonized Mrs. Buckle."

"Did Henry and Kate get away safely, doctor?" I asked.

"Yes, they did," was the reply. "That was why I got away, too. The little affair created such enmity between the two families and myself that they re fused to contribute longer to the church. But, as Solomon says in Proverbs 5 and-"

"Punk-ing-ton!" bawled the brake man, banging the door open.

I did not hear the verse from my companion, for it was lost in the clanging of bells, scrape of brakes and the scuffle of passengers' feet. "I've enjoyed meeting you immense ly, sir," said the divine, seizing my hand "I hope we will see you at our church it you ever stop here. Good-by."

TOO ENGLISH, YOU KNOW. Stilted Phrases Do Not Sound Well in Children's Months.

The Transcript has been appealed to in a matter that has proved perplexing in other families than that of the mother who asks for advice. It is the question of teaching children to refrain from saying: "Yes, sir," and "No, sir," and have them repeat the name of the person addressed in replying, as, "Yes, Mrs. Smith," "No, mamma," and the like. English children are taught that this is correct, the reason assigned over there being that the endlessly reiterated "Sirand "Ma'am" belong to the servants and tradespeople, and is indicative of inferiority. As the correspondent points out, however, in France, where class distinctions also exist, the monsieur and madame are not left off in polite society.

It is laborious, as many will testify, both to the small child and his listener, to hear the struggl s with his manners in this respect. He is often not sure of the new name, and in his effort to do as he has been told the artless talk of the child becomes priggish and cumbersome, or if he abandons the attempt altogether, his "Yes" and "No" sound curt and unmannerly. A compromise that has been known to be effective is to teach the children of a household to use: "Yes, mamma," "No, papa," "Yes, Uncle Ned," and so on, with the familiar names of the family connection, leaving the "Ma'ams" and "Sirs" for the strangers who may come. This distinction, says the mother who offers it, is for the children while they are young. When they are in their teens it is easy to make them understand the little niceties of courteous speech and follow them correctly. In summing up the matter, to refer again to the Ecston controversy, this paragraph is used: "No doubt there is such a thing as being too lavish in our following of English manners, and the listener is half inclined to think that this may be one of the good many matters in which it might have been just as well to declare our independence as in the matter of paying taxes on tea."-Boston Transcript.

AT M'KINLEY'S HOME.

Big Gathering of Friends Receive, with the Major, News from St. Louis. Canton, O., June 18 .- An animated and enthusiastic gathering, many ladies included, are assembled at Major McKinley's residence listening to the reading of the dispatches received every few minutes from #t. Louis. Mr. McMinley bimself is outwardly miniand regions as usual, but the initural strain upon him, incident to the situation, monifests itself in his e, es, the only expression he has given of the nervous tension to which by is strung. The question of th most interest has been as to the time the nomination would be made, and opinions pround con were freely given by all present. But all that the most interested would say was that St. Louis deserved to have the convention at least three days. The popular sentiment of the people of the town was for a daylight nomination. The major's venerable mother came over from her own home to be with her son. As soon as he saw her at the gate, some yards from the front porch, Major McKinley left his company with the words: "There's my mother," and with his hat uplifted he gave her his arm and escorted her into the house. He introduced her to his visitors individually and the experience was plainly most pleasing to the old lady. Although 87 years old Mrs. McKinley bears herself with vigor, takes a deep interest in all that concerns her son. and her pride and enjoyment in his success are delightful to see. The last evening train from the west brought several persons who had been attending the convention and their reports of the situation, especially of incidents not covered in the newspaper reports, greatly interested Major McKinley. Among them was Gen. Russell H. Hastings, who lives in the Bermudas. He went into the army as second lieutenant of McKinley's regiment and was mustered out brevet brigadier-general. After the war he was United States marshal for the northern district of Ohio, succeeding Col. Parsons. Later, for the benefit of his health, he located in Bermuda. The greeting between these comrades at arms was most cordial. Ex-congressman John B. Wise of New York and Murat Halstead, the veteran newspaper man, were also of the party.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic Electors of the several Assemoly Institutes of the State of New York are requested to send three delegates from each of the said districts to attend a State Couvention, to be held at Santtoga, on the 24th day of June, 1896, at 12 m., for the purpose of selecting the number of delegates to which the State of New Nork is entitled in the National Democratic Convention, to be held at Chicago, on the 7th day of July next.

J. W. Kinkley, Chairman, John Cunneen, Secretary,

The Republican Press charges the McKinley League a cent a word for publishing announcements of its meetings. The Lenguers smile and say that the League can't be crushed by such penny wise methods.

Absurd as is the nomination of a "wabbling" candidate on a gold plattorm it will be turned to vote-getting account in the campaign. In the East the cry will be "never mind the candidate, look at the platform" and the West will be told "never mind the platform, look at the candidate.

The Vice-Presidency is now the bone of contention at St. Louis. Platt is bending all his energies to bring about the nomination of Morton, for if he can accomplish that he will be saved the necessity of making a hard fight to retain control of the New York organization. Hanna, who doesn't seem to love Platt even a little, is throwing all his influence in behalf of Hobart, of New Jersey, and the chances are he will be nominated.

The delegates from the seven silver states, who will wa'k out of the Repub- Frederick W. Gibbs. lican national convention when the gold plank is adopted, do so "in sorrow, not in anger." It is related that Senators Teller and Dubois were moved to tears at finding that there was no longer room for them in the party with which they had so long been identified. The spectable of these states men with tear-dimmed eyes and tear-stained cheeks has not been equalled since Mark Twain, wept at the tomb of Adam.

William C. Whitney has given up his pleasure trip abroad and will go to the didates have also withdrawn excep-Chicago convention to fight the battle for \ Hobart, who has practically a clear field. honest money. No man in the country can do more effective work at the convention. Possessed of tact and energy, a natural leader of men, he is a host in himself, and will rally many votes to the gold standard cause. An ever loyal Democrat, he has won a new claim on the love and esteem of his party by putting uside his ing to the call of party duty, President Cleveland's ringing words in behalt of honest money have given new life and spirit to Democrats who hold to the true Democratic faith. They are faint-hearted no longer, and will go to ! Chicago to battle earnestly and zealously for the preservation of the nation's faith and honor and to save their party from wreck and ruin. "A cause worth fighting for is worth fighting for to the end," says Mr. Cleveland. If the fight for the gold standard is tought to the end theresuit cannot be doubtivl.

After all the bosh about the "Grand Old Party. the Republican party isn't a very old party, and it has accomplished but one thing to brag of—the putting down of the Rebellion, and incidentally the freeing of the slaves, and this with the help or the Democrats. Compared with the Grand Old Democratic party, which has piloted the country through nearly a century, it is a mere stripling, It held its first national convention just forty years ago to-day, when it nominted John C. Fremont and it received its first licking in the November following.

THE CONVENTION AT WORK.

Down to Business at Last—The Platform Adopted-Silver Belegates Weep and Withdraw-Nominating Speeches Now Being Made.

BY UNITED PRESS.

St. Louis, June 18.—The convention was called to order at 10:30. The seats of the silver delegates were entirely empty. Every one was at high tension over the prospect of a bolt.

Teller was still pale and nervous but ooked better than last night.

Rev. John Scott offered the opening prayer. He is a very short negro. The prayer was also short.

Foraker was received with tumultous applause when he submitted the platform.. The reading of the plattorm occupied twenty-five minutes. When it was finished Mr. Foraker moved its adoption.

Mr. Teller handed up a minority report which provided for the substitution for the financial plank, of the following.

The Republican party favors the use of both gold and silver as the equal standard of money, and pledges its power to secure the free, unre-stricted and independent coinage of gold and silver at our mints at a ratio of 16 parts of silver to 1

Teller then advanced to the front and in earnest tones addressed the convention in explanation of his course, and said that the Republican party, having departed from its principles, nothing remained for him but to sever his connection with the party with which he had so long been asso lated.

Teller's substitute was tabled by a vote of $18½ to 105 and the gold standard plank adopted $12½ to 111%.

When the vote was announced the silver delegates withdrew.

The platform was then adopted as a whole amid great enthusiasm.

The roll was called for the names of members of national committees. New Jersey named Hobart and New York,

At 2 o'clock Baldwin, of Council Bluffs presented the name of Allison, of Iowa. At 2:15 Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, took the platform, and nominated Reed, of Maine.

The scholarships were awarded at an damaged. We are glad to be able to sev that it is not true.

It is true, however, that a very severe storm of rain and had passed over the Up Midland region about 9 o'clock, last night, extending from some distance north of Livingston Manor to a poibelow Liberty. The country roads were badly washed and bridges were carried away, the damage being estimated at several thousands of dollars.

The O, and W, officials, after being informed of the severity of the storm, held their freight trains for some time tearing that there would be mud-slides in some of the deep cuts in that region. While the mud did run to some extent, the tracks were not covered and trains are running on time to-day.

Hail fell in great quantities and the stones were large enough to cause considerable damage to crops. The windows in the Liberty depot were broken in several places as were also many windows in the village.

From all accounts the Up Midland storm was similar to the one-that passed over this city in the asternoon, although it was more severe.

Can you rely upon his opinion of the quality of his wares?

Does be try to sell you an inferior article at the price of a better one? When you ask him for McMonagle & Rogers' Premium Extract Vanilla, does he try to sell you something else, claiming "it's just as good?"

Why does he do it? Because the inferior article costs him less and he charges you just as much for it? Don't trust him if he does business in that way.

Our Premium Fruit Flavors better, stronger—for same reason they are more economical to use, It's as poor economy to use poor flavors for any purpose as it is to use musty eggs or rancid butter in cake.

SHARPEST LIGHTNING OF THE YEAR.

The Air Full of Electricity During the Shower of Yesterday Afternoon - A House Struck and a Tree Close to ex-Sheriff Johdson's House Shattered-A Rall of Fire Evolodes on King Street-Telegraph and Telephone Fuses Burned Out-Other Incidents of the Storm.

The severest thunder shower of the season passed over this city about 4.30 yesterday afternoon. The lightning was unusually sharp and vivid, and the loud thunder crashes followed so quickly after the flashes as to make the timid quake and remind even the bravest that the ways or lightning are mighty uncertain.

Several well known citizens, who were tanding on the Russell House piazza, aver that they saw a ball of fire burst in King street, just in front of the hotel. The sharp crash of the explosion was followed by a dealening thunder clap, and all the members of the group felt the eiher- of the shock, their fingers tingling for a long time afterwards.

All the fuses in the Postel-Telegraph office were burned out, and the lightning -napped and played about the office in a way that quite demoralized Operator Roth. Telephone bells rang all over town, and the tuess in a number of instruments were burned out.

During the shower hail stones of large ize fell in quantities sufficient to almost cover the ground. Many panes of glass in exposed positions were broken.

A HOUSE STRUCK ON HANFORD STREET. The residence of Squire Lee, on Hanford street, was struck by lightning. A large hole was made in the roof, and the ranters were badly splintered. Fortunately no one was injured, nor did the woodwork catch fire.

ENSHERIFF JOHNSON GETS A SHOCK. Ex-Sherrii Johnson said this morning: Twe heard all my life that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, and I hope it's true." Asked for an explanation he said that he and his young son were standing on the stoop at his residence in the southwestern part of the city during the storm, when suddenly there came a blinding dash or light. followed by a thunder crash that ought to have awakened the dead, and the air was filled with a stifling odor resembling sulphur, only more so. Then came a shower or leaves from the top of a cherry tree which stood about fifteen feet from

STRAW HAT SHOP GOES UNDER.

Edwin Benson Proprietor of the Straw Works Pushed by an Importunate Creditor, Forced to Make An Assignment.

Edwin Benson, of New York City, manufacturer of straw hats, in this city, under the style of the Middletown Straw Works, made an assignment, yesterday, without preference. James A. Atkinson is the assignee. Inability to make collections and the pressure of one or his creditors is given as the cause for the assignment.

Edwin Benson is the father of H. C. Benson, of this city, who had the management of the Straw Works. Mr. Benson leased the factory from the Middletown Straw Hat Company in 1888. and has operated it successfully ever since. The season closed and the shops shut down as usual about two weeks

All Middletown will hope that Mr. Benson may be able to adjust his affairs so as to resume work next season. The straw works has been an important factor in Middletown's industries.

HELD UP BY TRAMPS.

Gang of Hobos Attempt to Rob a Brakeman at Greycourt-Four Arrested and sent to Goshen Jail.

Trom Our Greycourt Corr-pondent

A gang of tramps attempted to hold up one of Conductor Dwyer's brakemen at the lower end of the Newburgh long iding, as his train was on its way to Newburgh, about 11:30 o'clock, last night. They drew a revolver on the brakeman but got nothing.

Word of the attempted robbery was elegraphed to Chester and Officers Wood and Bryan responded quickly. They succeeded in arresting five tramps and brought them to the Eric station here and put them in the Erie depot before raking them to Chester. While the officers were engaged outside one of the tramps escaped through a window. The other four were taken to Chester, before Justice Conklin, who sent them to Goshen

A box of tools was found on Conductor Dwver's train on its arrival at Newburgh. They are supposed to be burgiar tools and to belong to these tramps.

My gram'pa is a funny man, I tries to teach him all I can, But he can't talk like me, I've told him forty fousand times But tain't a/bit of use, An' calls a house a "hoose.

He plays with me most ev'ry day, And rides me on his knee: He took me to a plenic once And dressed up just like me. He says I am a "bonnie bairn,"

And kisses me, and when I asks him why can't ne talk right, he says: "I dinna ken."

But me an' him has lots of fun, He's such a funny man,

I dance for him and brush his hair And loves him all I can. I calls him Anjrew (that's his name).
And he says I can't talk,

And then he puts my plaidle on And takes me for a walk. I tells him forty fousand times But tain't a bit of use, He always says a man's a "mon" An' calls a house a "hoose."

-Charles D. Stewart, in Chicago Interior YARNS SPUN BY GAMBLERS

Old Scho's Biggest Scratch at Keno and Faro.

The Man Who Died After the Cards Had Run Against Him-Running a Faro Bank with Only a Five-

"It does beat all how cards will some times keep a-runnin' all one way for a long time," remarked Old Scho, apropos of nothing in particular, during an informal meeting of the Gladstone club, as he toyed with a stack of red chips, which, like all their blue and white and vellow companions in this city, have become useless, except as counters in an innocent game of whist or casino, since the reform wave came along and closed up all the places where men used to gamble on the green, says an Albany correspondent of the New York Sun.

Old Scho heaved a meditative sigh, reflectively stroked his white chin whiskers, and looked up and around to observe whether any of the other mem bers were listening to him. Having satisfied himself that there were at least three or four who were willing to give willing ears to the yarns that he spins on the slightest provocation, or no provocation at all, he continued:

"I remember one night, years ago, when Paddy Martin was running a keno joint up here in Broadway, I made the biggest scratch of my life. It was like this: I'm broke, an' I'm just going out when a friend o' mine comes in an I says to him: 'Lemme have ten doilars, will ye?' He puts his hand in his Pocket and pulls out ten dollars an gives it to me. I go in an' I bet just one card, for a half dollar, an' I win the pool. There was $77 in the pool. Well, I don't play no more keno that night, but I go over to the White house an' I go up agin the bank, an' I win $2,700. I simply can't lose a bet. I win all the time that night."

As those who had been listening were old and well-seasoned members of the Gladstone club, whose purpose is, and is distinctly specified in its articles of incorporation, the promotion of the social enjoyment and intellectual de velopment of its members, they did not show that they had been profoundly impressed by Old Scho's narrative. They had often heard hun tell similar stories all of which he warranted to be true in every detail. But the old man was not discouraged by the apparent want of appreciation on the part of his aud! ence. With a little preliminary cough which had no suggestion of an apology in its sound, he began again: "I remember another time, up in Saratoga one night, I see Cull Holland win $55 with two cents off the roulette wheel in Cale Mitchell's. Then he goes over agin the faro bank an' wins something like $2,000."

This time the solemn-looking meriber, with the long, flowing, black mustache, felt himself impelled to ask:

"How could be win anything with two cents? They wouldn't let him put it down."

"Oh, yes they would. They'd let him put anything down, even a brass button, and pay him, too. Of course, they knowed him well, an' he'd been losing quite a little money."

A brief period of silence intervened, during which the old man stroked his whiskers three times. Then he resumed his discourse:

"An' then again, I've seen the cards run agin a man all night. I remember one night when I was dealing faro bank in Chicago, there was a man playinghe was the brother of some s nato forget his name now-an' he lese 3" betright straight off the reel. He gets a stand-off now an' tier, but he never picks a bet off the layout. Bimeby be win a few bets, but putty soon he lose again, an' along to'rds midnight I gues he's putty near broke. He reaches down in his pocket and pulls out a $50-b C, an Le hands it over an' says: 'Put that on the five.' I put it on the five, an' shlose the next turn. Well, that may he just gave one gasp on' fell back in his chair. Some of the players that was sitting llongside of him began to rub his hands, an' one man called for water. They thought he'd fainted. But I looked at him just once nn' I says: 'Oh, i o, he ain't fainted; he's dead.' Y see. I'd seen a fellow die just like that on 'e before, an' I knowed the signs ' Then the solema-looking member spoke up again and remarked: "Well, now I'll tell you people just one little story. It's little, but it's true. I see a fellow go up against the fare bank up in Johnny Mack's one night and he only has half a dollar to begin with, and he begins to play the high card, and I'm blamed if he don't beat every turn through a whole deal, from top to bottom. At the end of the deal he has about

"How much did he bet at a time?" asked the smooth-faced, dark-haired member with the streak of gray at his

"Only 50 cents, five white chips, all the way through the deal." "Then 'm wouldn't have had $16, even

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported to us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cod-liver oil and its fithy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophos-phites had also been faithfully tried in vain

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, broughitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal ratarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 1000 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of ad dress and 21 cents in stamps to cover post-age and wrapping only. FAMOUS SONG. The Bong That Reaches Our Hearts In "My Old Kentucky Home." There is one song in the English language that, perhaps, comes closer to the hearts of Americans, particularly if they are far from home and kinsmen, than any other. That song is "My Old kentucky Home." The simple, tender story it tells and its irresistible melody are familiar to nearly every one. It has been sung by noted singers in every civilized country on the globe, and has beer sulogized by authors and critics of classical taste; yet its author, Stephen Foster, died unhonored and unsung, and unconscious of the masterly work he had wrought. Like nearly all other great artists, however, Foster's recompense came after he was dead and it is safe to say that "My Old Kentucky Home" and its writer's name will live so long as human sentiment and love of home endure.

n Patti concert in the Crand opera house of Par's in the early seventies are, many of them, old men and women row, but they can still vividly recall the indescribable scene when the divaappeared in response to an encore and sang, as only Patti could sing, this sweet, simple ballad. It was entirely unexpected, and before they were aware strong men were weeping and women were hysterically giving vent to emotions they did not try to control. At its conclusion the great singer was literally showered with flowers and costly gifts. One rich American threw a roll of bills over the footlights that was said to contain a sum of money up in the thousands. The demonstration was perhaps the most magnificent ever accorded a suitor for public favor.

Those Americans who were present at

A street singer stopped to sing the other night in front of a well-known hotel. He was an old chap, blind of one eye, and infirm, but gifted with the remnant of what was once a very sweet tenor voice. With him as attendant and guide was his daughter, a child or sunny Italy, sun-browned, large-ey d and attractive in her picture-que garb. The old fellow sang first that ditty of the streets: "Just Tell Them That You Saw Me," provolung little attention Then he began to sing in his tremulous, quavering voice an old favorite. As he proceeded the windows of the hotel were raised one by one and guests looked out with sympathetic eyes. Coins showered down to the picturesque little maid, who circulated about with her tambourine, collecting. Mer strolled out of the cafe and gathered on the steps, listening with interest. One old fellow, a tall, soldierly-looking man. with flashing dark eyes and an air that was unmistakably southern, gave the child a note with the remark: "It did my heart a dollar's worth of good." When the last strain of the touching old melody died away everybody present wore that dreamy look that tells of old memories stirred and refreshed. The song was "The Old Kentucky Home;" the southerner touched by its rendition a former Hentuckian ruined by the ravages of the war.-Cincinnati

THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO.

Enquirer.

If Grouchy Had Prevented Prussian Junetion with English-

Napoleon would have won the battle of Waterloo had Grouchy prevented the junction of the Prussians with the English army because he would not have had to fight two battles at once. Few persons realize that the so-called battle of Waterloo was in reality a double battle. somewhat like Jena and Auerstadt. Napoleon fought one battle at Waterloo against the English. Or the arrival of the Prussians he was forced to go in person toward Planchenho't and there fight another battle against the Prussian army leaving to Ney the conduct of the troops at Waterloo. It is a wellknown maxim in war that a very great or decisive victory cannot be gained unless one commander makes a serioublunder, of which the other takes immediate advantage. It is very evident that the fact of the emperor's having to fight two battles at once, instead of concentrating his attention on one alone, enormously increased the possibility of a mistake. Moreover, Napoleon did not have the able lieutenants of his former compaigns. Dessaix, Kleber, Lannes, and Bessiers were dead. Massena and Macdonald had taken the cath of allegiance to the Bourbous, and Murat had split with the emperor.

Napoleon's personal attention was, therefore, imperative. To Grouchy alone all blame must be attributed, for, had he prevented the union of the Prussians with the English, the emperor would have had to fight only one battle at a time, and could have given his entire personal attention to that one battle. In the second place, Napoleon would not have been forced to fight with 71.-947 men against two armies numbering about 125,000-nearly two to one against him. He would have had 71,-947 good soldiers pitted against a raw. undisciplined army of 67,661 men under the duke of Wellington, which was not only interior in mere numbers, but far inferior in morale and experience. The chances would have been greatly in a vor of the French, Then, too, the French army was commanded by the acknowledged masters of modern warfare, whose brilliant successes at Rivoli, Marengo, Austerlitz, Jena Friedland. Wagram, the Borodian, and Dresden had dazzled the whole world. Until then Napoleon had never been defeated in any great battle except Leipsic, and the French were strong in the confidence of the emperor's success. Two of the best writers on the Waterloo campaign-Shaw-Kennedy and Sibourne, both Englishmen-concur in saying that, had Grouchy kept the Prussians away, the English army would have been badly beaten. This view is also held by the ablest writer of all, Mr. Ropes .-- United Service Review.

NEW ZEALAND BRIDGE. Some Peculiar Features of Ranch Life is the Antipodes.

The picture represents an everyday scene on the sheep farm of Mr. J. Whiteman, on the Wangachu river, North Island, New Zealand. The cage in which the young lady and her dog are setting forth to make an afternoon call is the only means of reaching and leaving the homestead, except by fording the river on horseback. The water is deep in midstream, rapid, and strougly impregnated with sulphur, its source being in the crater of Ruspehu. After rains, when a "fresh" comes down, the atmosphere of the valley is strongly reminiscent of Sodom and Gomorran. The cage ropes are manipulated by the passenger herself. To a stranger, the sensation in crossing the swiftly rushing waters in the rocking conveyance is a little nerve trying, especially when the fracile machine suddenly sticks in the middle, as sometimes happens, and refuses to budge either backwards or forwards. All the station wool is swung across the river by the same means, and is then conveyed in wagous over some 20 miles of road cut out of sheer precipions. On the cleared land the sheep feed to apparently inaccessible beights. The untouched virgin bush is densely crowded with tall feru trees, and other mountain foliage of great beauty. The scenery is grand and wild in the extreme. The settlers, in the winter, are frequently blocked in for weeks with heavy earthships. These fall from the chifs on to the road—the only pleams of access to This remote but most picturesque rethe Poor Are Borne to the Grave by a Human Hearse.

The simplest yet most extraord nary way of transforting a corpse to the trave is that which prevails among the ery pour in Mexico. In weny old world countries it has been the custom to carry the dead to burial on the shoulders of six or eight bearers. In the United States and modern Europe. where city streets are usually wide enough for wheeled vehicles, hearses are the rule. Along the banks of some Rats in Mammoth Cave.

In the mammoth cave of Kentucky are found blind rats which have large and lustrous eyes. When exposed for a month or so to a mild light, they acquire a dim perception of objects. The cave rat is the same color as the domestic variety, but its body is very long, like that of a weasel; its whiskers are longer, and its ears are nearly twice as big. It would be interesting to breed a few generations of blind animals from the caves, and see if their descendants would revert to the original forms that had eves.

Secsible Statement from the Richest Woman in America.

For the benefit of women with small this of money to invest, Mrs. Hetty sreen, who is the richest woman in in crica, recently made the following statement:

"I would advise any woman with $560 at her command to invest in real estate. The should buy the real estate at aucfor such an opportunity, it will surely the safest means of investing idle steady interest, but it is less likely to depreciate in value than stocks, which are always somewhat uncertain. A woman with tact and ability will be on the alert to learn of a mortgage about to be foreclosed. In such cases she should negotiate with the owner of the property and give him enough to clear his debt, thus saving him the costs of a sale. Many a woman has profited by an opportunity of this kind.

"Of course, if a woman has $500 in eash, and wishes to speculate, she may branch out more broadly and take greater risks with the prospect of greater returns. But she should bear in mind that real estate is the collatera' to be preferred to all others."

of Jessie l'indiey.

Jessie Findley, a 17-year-old Oklahoma girl, is recognized as the champion woman horse-breaker of the west, and it is safe to say that there are not many eastern girls who can approach her record. She has lived a life of outdoor adventure and her experience in breaking and training horses has taught her that she need not fear the wildest broncho. On one occasion she rode 250 miles in five days, which was sufficient to exhaust the men who accompanied her. At another time she plunged into the North Canadian with

HYMENEAL

Fouquet--Macardell. Miss Jessie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Macardell, and Mr. Louis Douglas Fouquet, assistant engineer of the O. & W., were married at 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 13 Highland Terrace. The wedding was a very quiet one, only relatives and a few incimate friends being present. The house was most beautifully decorated for the occasion. In the pariors daisies, laurel blossoms, ferns, evergreens and potted plants were used with fine effect. In the sitting room and dining room laurel blossoms and roses were used. The table decorations were daisies and festoons of smilax.

The bride entered the parlors on her father's arm, and was met by the bridegroom, who was attended by Mr. C. Macardell, Jr., as best man. The ceremony was most impressively performed by Rector Evans, of Grace Church. Mr. Harvey L. Wickham presided at the

The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling dress of a new shade of green canvas cloth, with silk stripe.

After congratulations a wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Fouquet took the O. & W.'s north bound express for a wedding journey of about three weeks, most of which time they expect to spend in Canada. On their return they will reside at "The Madden."

Dayton-Thayer.

There was a quiet widding at the residence of Mr. C. J. Thayer, No. 49 Lake avenue, at 4 p. m., yesterday, when his daughter, Miss Anna, and Mr. Warren Dayton, the junior member of the firm of B. S. Dayton & Son, were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. F. L. Wilson, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present.

The parlors were tastefully decorated for the occasion. The young couple stood during the ceremony under a floral bower. As the bridal party entered the room a wedding march was played by Miss Nellie Langdou. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton left for New York on Eric train 8. They will be absent about ten days. After their return they will reside for the present at least with the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton have a very large circle of friends who will wish them all the happiness and prosperity that is possible for mortals, and in this the Augus heartily joins.

Farrell-Dichl.

From our Goshan Correspondent.

Perhaps never before was St. John's Church the scene of a more beautiful wedding than, to-day, at 2:30 p. m., when · Miss Ella Diehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Deild, and Mr. Edward Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farrell, the well known eigar manufacturer of this village, were united in holy mutrimony by the Rev. P. F. McCorry.

Tae bride was attired in white satin with train trimmed with beautiful web lace, and wore a veil and carried a bunch of bridal roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ella Franklin, was arrayed in a pink broended Dresden. trimmed with silk lace and velvet and wore a white Neapolit in straw hat and carried a carried a bouquet of pink

The maid othonor, Miss. Helen Deihl, a niece of the bride, wore a white China dress and hat to match and carried a bunch of pink roses.

Mr. Charles Farrell, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs, Convad H. Diehl, William Farrell and Charles Diehl.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the service at the church, About fixty relatives and friends of the bride and grooth were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrell will take the ev ning train for Newburgh, where they will take the boat to New York and then go to Boston, where they will remain

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Parcell will make their hower in Warwark, where Mr. Parrelt is engage i ta che organ manuita during business.

THE M'KINLEY LEAGUE.

Last Night's Meeting-An Executive Committee to Run the Campaign-President Dayton's Extra Long flead.

The McKinley League's meeting, last night, was well attended and enthusiasm bubbled up in every Leaguer's breast. About thirty new members were added to the rolls. The old Platt-Odell unchine leaders were conspicuous by their absence and thus missed the last chance to get on the band-wagon before it tak is its place in the procession.

It was resolved to appoint an executive committee to have charge or the management of the campaign which is to be taken out of the hands of the "old gang," and the following persons were named as members of the committee:

First Ward-D. W. Berry, A. B. Wheeler, Second Ward-G. B. Wales, Lawes Third Ward-F. W. Cordier, L. W.

Carr. Fourth Ward-A. R. Billings, J. S. Rey-

B. S. Dayton, President of the League. was named as the chairman of the execu tive committee. His holding of these two high and honorable offices makes him almost as big a boss of the new machine as ex-Boss Boyd was of the old and effete organization that the Leaguers loudly believe has been relegated to innocuous desnetude and consigned to the junk shop. to which dismembered and disjointed political machines all go when they are past repair. Close friends of Mr. Dayton assure us that the two offices which Mr. Dayton has sequestrated to his own uses give him a lead pipe circh on tederal patronage hereabouts. We set down however, as a malicious fabrication of an embictered member of the "old gang," the report that President and Chairman Dayton sat up all night practicing

President and Chairman Dayton being in the fireworks line, he arranged to have the League order a grand celebration as soon as word is received that McKinley has been nominated. This will create a demand for fireworks that will knock the Fourth of July trade out of sight.

writing P. M. after his name.

It is to be said that as far as he has gone President and Chairman Dayton is a very slick article.
